

Faith-based Creation Care Organizations

We're not alone! Below are just a few of the many other faith-based organizations working at creation care. Did we miss your organization? Tell us.

Christian Organizations:

Arocha

An international conservation organization. Find out about how people around the world are tackling their environmental challenges.

Bartimaeus Cooperative Ministries

Radical discipleship, bioregional eco-justice, Sabbath economics, restorative justice and other good things.

Catholic Climate Covenant

Read Laudato Si, find out what popes, bishops and the Church fathers had to say about creation care; learn how to host a Feast of St. Francis.

Creation Justice Ministries

They'll help you get involved with issues such as climate change, Native rights, land preservation.

Earth Ministry

Offers a strong greening congregations program based on 25 years of experience and trains people in advocacy.

Eco-Justice Ministries

Check out the Eco-Justice Notes weekly column on current events by Peter Sawtell.

Episcopal Ecological Network

Their site is organized around reflection, education and action.

Evangelical Environmental Network

They take sin, confession and repentance seriously. They also make the case for clean energy from a pro-life perspective: pollution harms the unborn.

Green Chalice: Disciples Home Missions

Green Chalice refers to a certification program for greening congregations.

Kairos

An ecumenical Canadian organization working for justice and peace. Ecological justice is a big part of what they do.

Lutherans Restoring Creation

Good biblical and eco-theology resources. For Lutherans, 2017 is the 500th anniversary of their founder's big moment at the Wittenburg door, and they're making it an eco-Reformation.

Presbyterians for Earth Care

Check their educational resources for curriculum. They also have an Eco-Stewards program for young adults.

Quaker Earth Care Witness

They emphasize deepening one's spirituality and the spiritual basis of earth care.

The Taos Initiative for Life Together

A Mennonite-inspired social change movement pursuing watershed discipleship and reimagining the good life in America.

Interfaith and Other Faiths

Alliance of Religions and Conservation

ARC is a secular body that helps the major religions of the world to develop their own environmental programs, based on their own core teachings, beliefs and practices.

Coalition of the Environment and Jewish Life

A policy site from a Jewish perspective.

Eco Mena

An Islamic environmental protection site focused on the Middle East.

The Great Turning

Spiritual practices and other work that reconnects people ecologically and socially. The site is based on the work of Joanna Macy, a Buddhist thinker.

Greening Sacred Spaces

Step by step program for greening religious communities plus many case studies to see what others have done.

Interfaith Power and Light

An interfaith religious response to global warming with multiple approaches: energy conservation, solar grants, divestment, etc. State affiliates in 38 states.

I want to see what congregations in other denominations are doing.

I want to find worship resources.

Merry Lea
Blue Heron
Arocha

I'm looking for curricula.

I want to read reflective essays on environmental issues from a Christian perspective.

I want to see what environmental issues resonate with Christians.

I'm looking for faith-based perspectives on sustainable agriculture.

I'm looking for faith-based perspectives on climate change.

I want a faith-based perspective on land management.

I need resources related to greening church buildings.

I need political action resources

Simple living resources

Season of Creation

<http://seasonofcreation.com/>

Provides worship resources for a yearly four-week worship series